Classes for Children and Parents

Kindermusik is the emerging community of families and teachers passionately committed to bringing music to children's lives. Guided by proven methodology combining music and childhood developmental research, Kindermusik sparks magical, memorable learning for each and every child. Kindermusik brings the highest quality musical learning experience to young children and families through the hands and hearts of musical and early childhood educators all over the world.

The finest musical curricula are provided in not only a once a week class but in At Home Materials intended to be used in the home on a daily basis. Parents attend classes with their children and are gently educated in the why, what and how of KM. Quality time is spent by working with the young child by their "first and best teacher", the parent. Beautifully produced art work in the form of story books, art banners, charts, activity books and more all co-ordinate with CDs and quality (and safe) instruments for exploration and fun.

Not only are KM experiences valuable for a child's musical development, but they also enhance physical, emotional, cognitive, language/literacy and social development as well. The KM experience is based upon developments of basic elements such as movement, listening, vocal, literacy and ensemble. Process rather than performance is emphasized and children can enter the classes at any time since they are not sequential.

Classes are grouped by age: newborn -18 mos.; 18 mos. To age 4; Age 3 to 5; and age 5 to 7. Classes are taught by Kindermusik educated and licensed teachers who have a love for music and children.

Kindermusik builds a love for music during these critical years of the young child's growth and sets the stage for formal musical study when older. With age appropriate activities the child's self confidence, curiosity, and self expression begin to blossom. This orderly, fun and stimulating environment will be "a good beginning that never ends".
